

Encourage students to attend the Capital One Coders Experience!

Dear Principals,

Know any female students with an early interest in STEM? We are thrilled to announce our free Coders Experiences, presented by the Virginia Secretary of Technology and powered by Capital One, at various campus locations on October 14 and 21!

What is the Coders Experience?

- One-day event where girls learn how to create their own mobile app!
- They'll participate in individual and team problem-solving and software development basics.
- Open to 6th–8th grade girls interested in a free, fun, interactive experience.
- Chance to win a trip to the Capital One #WITexperience in Richmond on November 15, 2017.

We'd love to see YOUR SCHOOL's students attend this collaborative, fun event! Encourage your teachers to spread the word. Attached is an invite they can easily pass on to parents of interested students as well as a small blurb to post on personal teacher webpages.

You can also find more information online at: regonline.com/CapitalOneCodersExperience. Let's do our part in encouraging young girls early so that they can pursue a rewarding career in technology.

Our Greater Richmond and Northern Virginia locations have reached their capacity with a waitlist. Come join us at one of our other eight regional locations before they book up!

Best Regards,

Capital One
